We are in the mess We are in Putin, as the only way any work would get done, at all, as in even for Spirit to shit an earth -- rather than explode from constipation -- is the Cherub over that authority had to do it, as in have it, just their own way. Only that Cherub's way over that authority was the right way, (just ask them) and with all that was created they demonstrated how the LORD was one nasty, enslaving, cannibalising, monster of a bastard cruel in enslaving consciousness to matter making life as we know it. Satan could see the hand writing on the wall where the grand idea of being embodied as a human under the LORD and LadyWisdom plan; and he was going to put a stop on being forced to live. Then came man in one bold sacrifice -- anyway. Oh, mama, the embodiment of Allness missing that procreative element. The earth, as a planet, is a damn good representation of the LORD and Lady Wisdom, as was, in miniature form.

Exalted Excellency the Honourable Mr. Putin President of Russia:

How mumsy has woven so much for you to conquer is because, as Solomon said, "There is nothing new under the sun." What he could not say is that there is nothing new. And, that was a period -- think terminal point. Mumsy operates on that. So in a definitive context, think of it this way; after a male or female receives in their body a penis, even forcibly, or has forced on them a form of sodomy they still have spirit coin to take or receive a spouse with Heaven's authority backing that marriage; and not forced to back the first union a person experienced. So, then what? Well, death is the last hurrah for that soul's flesh. And it too ends up recycled. Read Ecclesiastics again, dear.

From mumsy's weaving into all the ways Spirit could be exploited over the recycling conundrum with who is really married; then Satan needed Me. Fidelity to lawfully recognised spouse is what I made a reality as the life saver. The Ba'al perfecter is the sex act between male and female married to one another human couple.

If you really want to ponder the imponderables; what would remain if there were no matter? mumsy exploits that virginity is just a sham where Heaven is concerned -- human choice mattered -- and gluttony follows from peoples hatred of not being the "first." People hate the Ggods for their first sex being a shitty fuck. Women have big spirit coin for shitty fucks. You must be a good fucker. I like our living unrequited, thus far. Just know, I Am the other good fucker in this world. The God in His wisdom object lesson here is; when a baby is born their life was literally just handed to them.

Our generation of humanity we are stuck with, Putin, just complains that they were born because every one isn't throwing rose petals down in their path as they move across the earth. Who is enslaved, or trained to do that? Another human? How about a monkey? Or like this, line every walkway with roses. The one who is loved by their God will have a little breeze giving them a rose petal or two of potpourri with every step. The unloved can trip into the thorns. Ziczac, you know I love you. Be better than a John Osborn youth, Putin. Suborn over Spirit for being alive just don't cut it. I Am the Cherub over matter, and it is time for MEGA recycling, Savvy?

So, Putin, does that terminal point period represent a molecule, an electron, or a nuclear particle? How fundamental, Putin, is the most fundamental matter? Why don't you pull some strings so I can study nuclear physics at the Sorbonne? With housing, string pulling (politician oiling), tutors as My French is rusty, matriculation, and stipend that would set the Kremlin back three million dollars over those years of study, France -- yeah even Paris -- would benefit; and you would be able to welcome your national intern home. This would do you and Moscow good Putin. Think about it. Bonus if you have Me in Paris before Le Tour ends.

In the mean time, Putin, you pray Me up some printer ink. Then I will have the courtesy to reprint My last epistle sending this as well. I will be posting My next step in fulfilling My duty; PHP Camp. The early draft, a movie presentation of slides, will be accessible at <https://www.macdukes.com/common/movie/PHPcamp.m4v> Friday 10:00 (My time.) Oh, FYI, consciousness cannot be separated from matter in its smallest, most fundamental particle. The solid shit we see is the interesting dilemma that has the ring of irreversibility about it. Being able to see it is the Divine gift from Satan. And we have five senses do we not? Go ahead and ask yourself what was inherent to begin with? The other four. Partitioning matter for multiple life to exist in its privileged way of compartmentalisation came from the LORD. Curse Him for that jack ass.

Mahalo,
